The Los Angeles County Department of Mental Health (LACDMH), along with PATH Ventures and The Pacific Companies, celebrated the grand opening of the PATH Villas at Del Rey, a Bill Rosendahl community, on Thursday, October 8, 2015. The new West Los Angeles apartment community provides twenty-three affordable units for adults with mental health disabilities who have experienced homelessness. PATH Ventures will provide full-time on-site supportive services for residents to promote wellness, self-sufficiency, stability and promote an interactive living community.

LACDMH Adult System of Care Deputy Director Cathy Warner thanked the community of Del Rey “for embracing this beautiful opportunity for our clients.”

Edward, a new resident of PATH Villas at Del Rey, shared his experience of homelessness and substance abuse before being referred to the housing community by Edelman Westside Mental Health Center. “I have so many different resources and ways to grow here,” said Edward, who wants to give back by helping others in need.

PATH Villas at Del Rey is located within LACDMH Service Area 5, LA County Supervisorial District 2. It is jointly developed by PATH Ventures and The Pacific Companies, with its design by Killefer Flammang Architects. Funding for the project comes from: LACDMH, LA County Community Development Commission, Housing Authority of the City of LA, National Equity Fund, California Bank and Trust, Federal Home Loan Bank of San Francisco and California Tax Credit Allocation Committee.

PATH Ventures is a part of PATH (People Assisting the Homeless) family of agencies working together to end homelessness for individuals, families and communities. For more information, go to www.pathventures.org.
